

Rennes 2 University

Festival Transversales

Contenu sous forme de paragraphes

Festival Transversales

For its eighth edition, the Transversales festival will examine the way in which the arts and literature represent, question and change the notions of transmission and teaching. It will look at how, from kindergarten to university, is constructed, described, given to cinema, literature, theater, choreographic practices, etc. By reversing the perspective, we will also examine what literature and the arts can transmit and teach, within and outside of the limits of school ...

