

Rennes 2 and COVID-19 Updates: Information and Resources

Following the French Prime Minister's speech on Saturday evening, March 14, 2020, in which he asked all citizens to respect social distancing guidelines, and, in particular, to limit travel, meetings and all non-essential contact, as well as to respect personal hygiene measures, Rennes 2 University has decided to take new precautions as of Monday, 16 March.

There will be no face-to-face teaching activities on any of the three campuses, whether for undergraduate, graduate or continuing education courses and programs. University libraries, restaurants and cafeterias will also be closed to the public.

General Information

- Pedagogical continuity and online courses: All courses are progressively being made available online on the Cursus platform. You will receive further information from your teachers as this happens.

Exams: In view of the exceptional closure of our campuses due to the current sanitary crisis, Rennes 2 University's management team has modified the schedule and modalities of the final exams.

All final exams will be converted into home assignments so that students may take them as serenely as possible while ensuring that we meet our university's quality standards despite the constraints of the containment measures. We remind you that this new measure does not apply to continuous coursework, the modalities of which are decided by our teaching staff.

The schedule for the final exams has also been modified to allow teachers to adapt the tests and propose new subjects. The work period for these home assignments will run from April 29 to May 20. A message will be sent to you by the end of the week to provide you with more details on this schedule and the procedures.

If you do not have access to a computer, an internet connection, or if you encounter other difficulties, it is important to contact us at: [etudiant-covid19 \[at\] univ-rennes2.fr](mailto:etudiant-covid19[at]univ-rennes2.fr) ([etudiant-covid19\[at\]univ-rennes2\[dot\]fr](mailto:etudiant-covid19[at]univ-rennes2.fr)) so that our department heads can help you find appropriate solutions.

In addition, the university has also decided to release an emergency aid fund to supplement the aid granted by the CROUS. More information on this scheme will be communicated to the community very shortly. In the meantime, we remind you that you can find a list of useful contacts readily available on the university's intranet.

- Administrative activities: Administrative functions must, in accordance with the Prime Minister's decisions, be switched to work from home as much as possible, subject to essential activities that fall under our plan de continuité de l'activité (Business Continuity Plan - BCP)
- Research activities: a massive organisation of working from home must be undertaken to ensure the least amount of exposure as possible, including for research teams. Thesis and research leadership defenses planned by April 5 are postponed.
