

MSBH: Perspectives in the Human and Social Sciences 2020

Contenu sous forme de paragraphes

The day, organized on November 12, 2020, is dedicated to promoting visibility and innovation in human and social sciences research.

Each year, the Maison des Sciences de l'Homme (Human Sciences Institute) in Brittany organizes a day dedicated to exchanges on the promotion of research in the humanities and social sciences. This fourth edition of Perspectives SHS will be an opportunity to share experiences, best practices and tools that contribute to how research results are disseminated.

This scientific event is open to all. For health reasons, the number of places will be limited and registration is therefore mandatory. Wearing a mask and the respect of social distancing rules will also be mandatory.