Rennes 2 University

Department of Literature

Description succinte

The Literature Department includes French-language teachers and researchers; general and comparative literature; literature and ancient languages; and linguistics.

We welcome more than 1,000 students in our DEUST, BA and MA programs and offer preparation for the aggregation of modern literature.

Our Bachelor's program offers students the chance to learn from an extensive literary culture, from antiquity to the contemporary (from Homer to Umberto Eco / Virgile to Le Clézio), a comparative approach to literatures, as well as an introduction to the different fields of linguistics.

We also offer related programs (technical, professional or online) for library sciences and publishing, professor of schools.

Bachelor's Degree

Humanities Bachelor’s Degree

Humanities Bachelor’s Degree: Classical Culture and European Modernity pathway

Master's Degree

Digital Humanities Master’s Degree

Humanities Master’s Degree

General and Comparative Literature (LGC) Master’s Degree

Book and Publishing Professions Master’s Degree

Department Heads:

Gaëlle DEBEAUX

gaelle.debeaux [at] univ-rennes2.fr (gaelle[dot]debeaux[at]univ-rennes2[dot]fr)

Cécile CORBEL

cecile.corbel [at] univ-rennes2.fr (cecile[dot]corbel[at]univ-rennes2[dot]fr)

Secretariat:

secretariat-lettres [at] univ-rennes2.fr (secretariat-lettres[at]univ-rennes2[dot]fr)

---

scolarite-lettres [at] univ-rennes2.fr (scolarite-lettres[at]univ-rennes2[dot]fr)

scolarite-meef-alc [at] univ-rennes2.fr (scolarite-meef-alc[at]univ-rennes2[dot]fr)