

Gallery Exposition: Les Turlutaines by Anna Uru

Contenu sous forme de paragraphes

The whimsical universe of Anna Uru is built on the porous border between fictional narrative and autobiography, candor and gaudiness, finesse and absurdity. She cultivates a passion for fantasy and kitsch that she distills into colorful compositions, carried by dehumanized characters.

With Les Turlutaines, she exhibits works that highlight her two favorite themes: love and representation of women. Forms and bodies mingle, colors come together in a gentle harmony; passion is both joyous and malicious...

The artist will be present at the opening of the exhibition, Thursday, November 22, 2018 at 13:00.

A selection of the illustrations on display will be on sale.

