

Exposition: War Poets of the Great War

Contenu sous forme de paragraphes

The celebrations of 11 November remind us of the lives of the many soldiers from differing countries and walks of life, all brought together during the First World War. We invite you to come and discover the exhibit "War Poets of the Great War: from enthusiasm to disenchantment" currently at the Media Library. This exhibition showcases texts by British poets accompanied by contemporary watercolours by Georges Gernot, which have recently been published.

The opening of this exhibit is scheduled for Monday, November 19 at 5pm, at the Media Library.

You can also find a selection of books on the First World War at the Social Sciences Library during the month of November.
