

International Week

Contenu sous forme de paragraphes

The International Office is organizing its 20th edition of the Rennes 2 International Week. Join us to gather information about opportunities for going abroad in coordination with Rennes 2 University.

The week's programming will be enriching for those who have questions about mobility, with varied workshops planned on the following topics:

- existing exchange programs and programs within a particular department
- funding opportunities and mobility grants
- international internships
- language-assistant programs

- Going abroad: a chance in one's academic and professional career path

If you're interested in a mobility project it's important to get informed about the application procedures several months in advance. Don't miss out on your chance!

Departmental, General Meetings and Experience sharing (live)

Given the health context, meetings will be organized online.

An e-mail will be sent to Rennes 2 students by their departments to provide you with the login information to attend the meeting (registration is required for some).

See the full list of meetings here.
