TACTICS

Thinking in Action: Creative Transformation of Intercultural Common Space

* Please note that this project is now finished.

Project Description

TACTICS is an Erasmus Mundus Design Measures project which aims to design a joint international and interdisciplinary Master's programme in which creativity will be paramount. Teaching intercultural competence through creative methods will help students to strengthen their everyday culture and promote inclusive innovation.

The consortium hopes to obtain an Erasmus Mundus Joint Master label in order to offer a 2 year master's programme which will encourage students to find new ways of addressing critical issues in shared physical spaces in different local contexts. The TACTICS Master degree will also allow students to develop projects that operate on the frontiers of artistic and wider social practices.
