

Launch of the Erasmus Mundus TELME Master's Program: Applications now open

The European Union will award scholarships to around 30 outstanding students in the first TELME cohort. These scholarships cover tuition fees, travel expenses, and living costs. Don't miss this opportunity — apply early!

TELME brings together leading European universities and offers students the unique chance to:

- Study in several countries,
- Explore diverse educational systems,
- Join a vibrant international community of peers.

As a TELME student, you will receive high-quality multilingual training in the field of language education, with the opportunity to study at one or more of the consortium's partner universities:

- Université Rennes 2 (France)
- Åbo Akademi University (Finland)
- Adam Mickiewicz University (Poland)
- Universidad de Burgos (Spain)
- University of Limerick (Ireland)

TELME graduates will be well prepared for international careers in:

- Language teaching,
- Curriculum and program development,
- Educational technology,
- Intercultural communication,
- Other language-related careers.

The program combines strong theoretical foundations with practical experience, equipping you to succeed in a wide range of professional and academic contexts.

Applications for the September 2026 intake open on 20 October 2025.

Learn more about the program and how to apply here: <https://telme.hypotheses.org/application>

Please note: Scholarships are available for a limited time. Early applications are strongly encouraged.

Cofinancé par
l'Union européenne