Rennes 2 University

Faculty of Social Sciences

Description succinte

Faculty of Social Sciences (UFR Sciences Sociales)

The classes offered in our Faculty help students to better examine and understand the transformation and evolution of society through time and space. They prepare students to join the professional sphere. Internships, fieldwork, conferences and professional presentations are integral parts of our programs and prepare the students for their professional fields.

Students also benefit from a digitalized environment: computer rooms with specialized cartography, remote sensing, statistics equipment, as well as other audiovisual and documentary equipment. The Faculty library includes a stock photography collection and a map collection of more than 40,000 documents.

All of our courses are open to international exchanges and programs. International students are, upon their arrival, invited to a reception within the Faculty to facilitate their integration within our programs and student body. Rennes 2 students are also encouraged to spend at least one semester in a foreign university during their studies.
